Shipping

We understand that streamlining the shipping and receiving process remains crucial to fighting the spread of Coronavirus and protecting healthcare professionals, first-responders, and the general public from the spread of COVID-19.

As many companies like UPS, DHL and FedEx all cope with shipping delays, CovCare quickly found ways to solve end-to-end supply chain matters by working with multiple shipping companies, partnering with customs brokers, and booking private flights on cargo planes.

We've booked private flights on cargo planes to go directly to airports in 1-3 days instead of 7-10 days (or more) the major courier services are taking. We have the capacity to ship 50 million masks per month to the US.
